

The Commons

what we hold in common

The New Symposium
Lefkes, Paros
Greece

May 17-23, 2006

PARTICIPANTS

GISELLE BEIGUELMAN, Brazil
New media artist and multimedia essayist

RUSTOM BHARUCHA, India
Writer, theatre director, and cultural critic

MAGDA CÂRNECI, Romania
Poet, art writer, essayist

DIANA CATES, U.S.A.
Professor of Religious Ethics at the University of Iowa

STRATIS HAVIARAS, U.S.A. and Greece
Writer, poet, and President of the Board of EKEMEL

AMEENA HUSSEIN, Sri Lanka
Sociologist, fiction & non-fiction writer, editor, and publisher

LEWIS HYDE, U.S.A.
Writer and Professor of Creative Writing at Kenyon College

RUTH MARGRAFF, U.S.A.
Playwright

GREGORY NORMINTON, England
Novelist

AMIR OR, Israel
Professor, poet, translator, and editor

YVONNE OWOUR, Kenya
Fiction writer, 2003 Caine Prize winner

BARRY SANDERS, U.S.A.
Writer and Emeritus Professor of the History of Ideas at Pitzer College in Claremont, California

SCOTT RUSSELL SANDERS, U.S.A.
Writer and Distinguished Professor of English at Indiana University

ALEXIS STAMATIS, Greece
Novelist, poet, playwright, and columnist

AYU UTAMI, Indonesia
Novelist and journalist

ANASTASSIS VISTONITIS, Greece
Poet, journalist, translator

Directing the New Symposium
CHRISTOPHER MERRILL, U.S.A.
Director, International Writing Program, the University of Iowa

ARTEMIS ZENETOU, Greece,
Executive Director, Fulbright Foundation in Greece